

Diane's Story

Diane Rodriguez, U.S. Department of Commerce

My cause is medical research. There is a lot of potential in medical research to ease people's pain and suffering from illness. There are cures and treatments yet to discover from our natural environment, and there is still so much to learn about how the mind and emotions affect physical health. Funding can provide the resources, people, and facilities needed to do the research. The CFC provides an easy and fun way to get excited about giving to various causes. It brings people together to think outside of themselves and be generous.

“My cause is medical research. There are cures and treatments yet to discover from our natural environment, and there is still so much to learn about how the mind and emotion affect physical health.”

